Limited lineage visibility

When reporting on student outcomes, research metrics, or financials, teams struggle to trace data from source systems to dashboards or public reports.

Inconsistent definitions

Different schools, departments, or research labs may define metrics like "retention rate" or "graduation rate" differently, causing reporting inconsistencies.

Business glossary for consistent university metrics

Standardize definitions for key metrics such as "Graduation Rate," "Retention Rate," or "Research Output" to ensure consistent reporting across departments.

Sensitive data discovery for governance and compliance

Identify PII, student records, and research data across databases and reports. Tag critical assets and export documentation to HTML or PDF to provide clear evidence for audits, compliance reviews, and governance programs.
