Why most data catalog projects fail before they even start?

In the race to become data-driven, most organizations fall into the "Implementation Trap".

The 18-month wait

A tool takes 200+ days to "go live," political support usually evaporates before the first user logs in.

The "Maturity Tax"

Many solutions require you to have perfect processes and a full team of stewards before the software works. They don't help you build governance; they demand you already have it.
